PART I: UNIT RATIONALE

WHY ARE STUDENTS LEARNING THIS CONTENT AND THESE SKILLS?

Course/Unit Title: Physical Education Unit: Individual and Dual Sport	Unit Summary: In the individual and dual sports unit students will have an opportunity to develop a basic understanding and appreciation for activities that can be played individually or with a partner. Students will demonstrate physical skills needed in a game including agility, reaction time, coordination. On a cognitive level, it allows students to demonstrate knowledge of the rules, strategy, sportsmanship and teamwork in dual player situations. Students will understand how individual sports will keep them active throughout their lifetime and they can perform them without the need of team members. They will realize the benefits of exercise and how important it should be in their daily lives. Although they will be performing individual skills they will also learn how to cooperatively work with others. Students can also practice their skills by themselves. Activities include, but are not limited to: tennis, pickleball, eclipse ball, badminton, golf, ladder golf, bean bag toss/baggo, washers, lawn darts, and can jam.
Grade Level(s): 10th
Essential Question(s): 1. How can I be successful at an individual sport? 2. What skills are necessary to be able to compete in a dual sport game? 3. How do dual sports increase cardiovascular endurance? 4. How does participating in healthy activities make me a better person? 5. How does effective and appropriate movement affect wellness? 6. Why do I have to understand concepts of movement when I can already perform the movement? 7. To what extent does strategy influence performance in competitive games and activities? 8. Why do I have to show good	Enduring Understanding(s): 1. Participation in an individual sport can be done throughout life. 2. Successful participation in dual sport games requires a repertoire of acquired skills. 3. Engaging in Individual/dual sports at both the recreational and competitive levels provide many health benefits in the areas of cardiovascular by increasing game intensity and in turn, heart rate. 4. Students will understand that lifetime activities provide opportunities for healthful, social interaction, and development of problem solving, and communication skills. Students will understand that safely and correctly performing movement skills improves overall performance and increases the likelihood of participation in lifelong physical activity and living a healthy lifestyle. 5. Performing movement in a technically correct manner improves overall performance and increases the likelihood of participation in lifelong physical activity. 6. Knowing and understanding concepts of movement will improve performance in a specific skill and provide the foundation for transfer of skills in a variety of sports and activities. 7. Implementing effective offensive, defensive and cooperative strategies is necessary for all players to be successful in game situations. 8. In order for all participants and spectators to experience the maximum benefit from games and sports, everyone must demonstrate knowledge and sportsmanship and follow the rules when others do not?	commitment to sportsmanship, rules and safety guidelines.

Course Name: Physical Education

Course Number: 000100

PART I: UNIT RATIONALE

WHY ARE STUDENTS LEARNING THIS CONTENT AND THESE SKILLS?

Course/Unit Title: Physical Education Unit Fitness	Unit Summary: The fitness unit will teach the importance of physical activity as a lifelong commitment for increased health, enjoyment, challenges, self-expression, and social interaction. The students will gain knowledge of current fitness activities that will help increase their overall fitness levels. Students will compare the short and long term impact on wellness with physical activities and compare and contrast the impact of health-related fitness components as a measure of fitness and health. The fitness unit will provide an understanding of the components of fitness including cardiovascular endurance, flexibility, muscular strength and endurance, and body composition. Students will connect age, gender, genetics, and body composition with personal wellness and design and implement an effective personal wellness plan. Students will learn how to properly use various forms of fitness equipment and acquire the knowledge of different body weight exercises. The fitness unit will introduce the students to various fitness activities including but not limited to yoga, kickboxing, CrossFit, circuit training, spin, and walking. In the end, this fitness unit will help each student develop the skill, knowledge, opportunity, and motivation to remain fit for life.
Grade Level(s): 10th
Essential Question(s): <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. How much exercise is needed to get/stay physically fit? 2. Will I be able to learn the basics of a physical fitness program? 3. How can you challenge yourself in the future? 4. Why is exercise important? 5. How do I perform bodyweight exercises properly? 6. What factors should be considered when designing a personal wellness plan? 	Enduring Understanding(s): <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Achieving and maintaining fitness requires age appropriate intensity, duration, and frequency of exercise. 2. Ongoing feedback and assessment is necessary in determining the effectiveness of a personal fitness program. 3. Students can determine their strengths and weaknesses for determining short and long-term fitness goals. 4. It is important to get exercise daily for health, enjoyment and social interaction. 5. Performing fitness exercises in a technically correct manner will protect against injury and improve performance and results. 6. Students can consider their age, gender, genetics, and body composition when designing their personal fitness plan.

7. Why is flexibility important?	7. Flexibility requires less energy to move through a greater range of motion. This decreases your overall risk of injury and increases physical performance as well.
8. How can yoga, CrossFit, kickboxing, and weight training improve my fitness levels, coordination, and confidence?	8. All of these activities promote some sort of cardiovascular endurance. Your coordination and confidence are improved by consistently working at the different skills that coincide with each activity.
9. How can walking/jogging, spin, and cardio exercises increase my cardiovascular endurance?	9. Not only can these fitness activities increase your cardiovascular endurance, but they also help to build healthy habits, promotes teamwork, has several life-long benefits (commitment, dedication, discipline), and has several psychological benefits as well.

PART III: TRANSFER OF KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS

DESCRIBE THE LEARNING EXPERIENCE.

How will students uncover content and build skills?

Suggested activities are listed, but not limited to:

I. Walk/Run on Track

- Running is an effective way to increase your cardiovascular fitness, lose weight, and even reverse bone loss. In addition to these benefits, running track promotes competition and encourages you to improve your running ability while promoting teamwork.

II. CrossFit

- CrossFit workouts incorporate elements from high-intensity interval training, calisthenics, and other exercises. Students will complete “WODs” which are workouts of the day.

III. Yoga

- Yoga helps students see the beauty and light within themselves, thereby boosting their self-confidence, allowing them to feel more comfortable with their bodies, and helping them get in touch with who they are inside. This teaches mindfulness and relaxation while having them develop essential skills for a lifetime of health and wellness in the mind, body, and spirit.

IV. Kickboxing

- Kickboxing is a group of stand-up combat sports based on kicking and punching. Developed from Karate and Muay Thai. Kickboxing is practiced for self-defense, general fitness, or as a contact sport.

V. Circuit Training

- Circuit training is a form of body conditioning or resistance training using high-intensity aerobics. It targets strength building or muscular endurance. An exercise "circuit" is one completion of all prescribed exercises in the program. These exercises can be done in the weight room or in the gym with specific equipment.

VI. Dance

- Dancing can be a way to stay fit for people of all ages, shapes and sizes. It has a wide range of physical, and mental benefits including: improved condition of your heart and lungs, increased muscular strength, endurance and motor fitness, increased aerobic fitness, improved muscle tone and strength, weight management, stronger bones and reduced risk of osteoporosis, better coordination, agility and flexibility, improved balance and spatial awareness, increased physical confidence, improved mental functioning, improved general and psychological wellbeing, greater self-confidence and self-esteem, and better social skills. Most forms of dance may be considered an aerobic exercise and as such reduce the risk of cardiovascular disease, help weight control, stress reduction, and bring about other benefits commonly associated with physical fitness. Dances Zumba, cardio dance, jazzercise, etc.
